He stated that the total number of universities in Nigeria today comprised of 260 Universities with 51 Federal, 62 State and 147 Private ones.

The Ag. ES recounted that the NUC recently presented operational license to 37 Universities for which Cosmopolitan University needed to accomplish its visions and mission as one of the leading Private University in Nigeria.

He advised the Vice-Chancellor to always abide by all extant regulations guiding the operation of University Education in Nigeria, assuring him of the Commission's unflinching support. He wished the Vice-Chancellor harmony, good health, purposeful and fulfilling stay in Nigeria.

Earlier in his remarks, the Vice-Chancellor, Professor Carl Adams, a Professor of Information System and an expert in Artificial Intelligence, thanked the Ag. Executive Secretary for the reception accorded the team.

He informed the NUC Management that his mission in Nigeria was to improve the quality of University education by contributing his quota to the development of University Education.

He emphasized the need to help students gain international quality and stop brain-drain and capital flight.

He said in collaborations with stakeholders, both, local and international, they were proposing to bring innovations and improvement in the NUS through artificial intelligence.

They were also planning a collaboration with some universities in the United Kingdom, United State, and Japan along with four Nigerian Universities to organize a consortium on Artificial Intelligence.

He said the long term plan was to put Nigeria in the fore front of AI by bringing in a lot of expertise.

Also speaking, the Registrar of the University, Dr. Mani Ibrahim Ahmed thanked Mr. Maiyaki for the audience despite the short notice.

He informed the Ag. ES that the purpose of the visit was to introduce the Vice-Chancellor of Cosmopolitan University, Abuja Professor Carl Adams, to the Executive Secretary.

Universities (AAU), and the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) to launch a Framework of Action for Accelerating Academic Excellence (FAAAE) in the Nigerian higher education system.

This was unveiled at a seminar jointly hosted by the AAU West Africa Office and JAMB and attended by Vice-Chancellors, Virtual Institute for Capacity Building in Higher Education (VICBHE) Module 7 participants and other stakeholders in higher education in Nigeria.

The AAU Ambassador for Higher Education for West Africa and former NUC Executive Secretary, Professor Emeritus Peter Okebukola, OFR, who convened the one-day seminar, underscored the importance of accelerating academic excellence to national and regional development.

Professor Okebukola who doubled as the President of the Global University Network (GUNi-Africa), called for sustainable funding of higher education while also urging prudent and judicious utilisation of resources available by higher education authorities.

The seminar which was held virtually, was addressed by the Secretary-General of AAU, Professor Olusola Oyewole who was applauded for the giant strides AAU had made in the last two years.

Also at the forum was the President of AAU, Professor Saeed Bakri Osman; Acting Executive Secretary of NUC, Mr. Christopher Maiyaki and Secretary-General, Committee of Vice-Chancellors of Nigerian Universities, Professor Yakubu Ochefu.

The Registrar/CEO of JAMB, Professor Is-haq Oloyede, identified numerous barriers to academic excellence and proposed wide-ranging and sustainable strategies for building bridges across the barriers to advance academic excellence.

Also, Professor Okebukola noted that the event was a follow-up to the Conference of Rectors, Vice-Chancellors,

Professor Emeritus Peter Okebukola, OFR
former NUC Executive Secretary, NUC and Presidents of African Universities (COREVIP) which held in Windhoek, Namibia from 4-7 July 2023.

In the preamble to the Framework of Action which was adopted by the 256 participants who attended the seminar, participants applauded the impressive contributions of the immediate-past Executive Secretary NUC, Professor Abubakar Adamu Rasheed in the revitalisation of university education in Nigeria, now being actively pursued and consolidated by the Acting Executive Secretary, NUC, Mr. Christopher Jibreel Maiyaki.

The stakeholders further applauded the giant strides in promoting access to quality higher education in Nigeria by Professor Is-haq Oloyede through the sterling activities of JAMB.

They noted the steady march towards academic excellence as demonstrated by improvements in the ranking of Nigerian universities in recent global ranking schemes.

They further noted that several challenges persisted in the quest to achieve excellence in higher education including funding especially the management of available funds.

The stakeholders affirmed that with improved resourcing of the system and significant improvement in the welfare of higher education staff, the pace towards academic excellence would be accelerated.

They emphasized that government should not abdicate its responsibility to properly fund higher education in Nigeria.

They were determined to make the Nigerian University System (NUS) a model in Africa that would showcase excellence in teaching and research as well as relevance in solving the myriad of socio-economic challenges facing the country.

Key elements of the Framework for Action include: “improved resourcing of physical facilities and staff welfare, step up the drive to academic excellence especially through research and production of quality graduates to ensure the attainment of national development goals and the SDGs;

“Request to all VCs to study the report of COREVIP 2023 and implement recommendations into actionable programmes in their universities;

“Effective and judicious use to be made of the resources that are currently available in the system;

“A scheme for getting all staff and students to have needed technology especially laptops for online delivery of the CCMAS should be instituted without delay;

“Implementation of recommendations from COREVIP 2023 that are aimed at improving academic excellence in higher education

TETFund Spends N150m On ICT Interventions in Institutions

The Executive Secretary, Tertiary Education Trust Fund (TETFund), Architect Sonny Echono, last Monday revealed that the Fund has increased its ICT support intervention to N100m for Universities and N50m for Polytechnics and Colleges of Education.

He noted that the amount was changed prior to 2022. The intervention was N15m for Universities and N7.5m for Polytechnics and Colleges of Education.

The TETFund Executive Secretary made the revelation in Abuja at the flag-off of a three-day workshop on “The Implementation of the Enhanced Blackboard Learning Management System and Train The Trainer Programme”.

He said the increase to ICT support intervention marked the largest single increase to any of TETFund’s intervention lines.

He underscored the priority TETFund was giving to ICT as an enabler for teaching, learning and research environment.

He said over two million students and staff of higher institutions in the country would soon have access to online academic resources through the deployment of blackboard learning platform.

Architect Echono said the workshop, which attracted
